

DJ Ezelle

Technology Consultant

dj.ezelle@saltmarshadvisors.com

DJ is a technology consultant in the Information Technology Services practice of Saltmarsh. He began his professional career in information technology in 2017. His primary areas of experience include supporting small to mid-sized organizations through managed IT services, cybersecurity, and Microsoft cloud-based solutions, with a focus on helping businesses modernize their technology environments while reducing risk and operational disruption.

DJ provides technology consulting services designed to align IT systems with business goals. His areas of expertise include Microsoft 365 and Entra ID environments, endpoint and identity security, data backup and loss prevention, compliance-focused IT planning, and modernization initiatives that strengthen reliability and business continuity. Prior to joining the firm, he founded and operated a managed services provider, which gave him a practical, business-first perspective that balances technical best practices with real-world operational and budgetary considerations.
