

Evan Schiller, CPA

Senior Manager

evan.schiller@saltmarshadvisors.com

Evan is a senior manager with experience across accounting, tax compliance, planning, and consulting services. He specializes in passthrough entity taxation, with a focus on the construction and real estate industries. Evan works closely with contractors and business owners to navigate complex tax matters, evaluate accounting methods, and develop strategies that support their financial goals.

He helps contractors determine the appropriate accounting method for tax purposes and identify planning opportunities that can help manage tax liabilities and avoid significant cash outlays at inopportune times. His practical, thoughtful approach allows clients to make informed decisions with greater confidence.

Clients value Evan's collaborative approach and his commitment to building strong relationships. He enjoys working closely with clients, understanding their unique needs, and seeing how thoughtful planning and teamwork can translate into meaningful results for their businesses.
